DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 25-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 25, 27 and 28 recites the limitation "the body." There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kan et al U.S. Pat. No. 6,497,651.

Kan discloses a device comprising: a biocompatible housing having a working channel, an outside surface, a first end, and a second end (figs. 1a-1c); and a first piercing jaw that is moveably coupled to the first end of the housing (11, 12), ends in a piercing tip (11 and 12), and is moveable from a first closed position to a second open position, the second open position allowing access to the working channel of the housing (11 and 12); and as to claim 24, (the examiner considers (31 and 32 to be biasing elements because it biases the jaw between open and close).

Art Unit: 3763

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bardy U.S. Pat. No. 6,436,068.

Bardy discloses a method for maneuvering an implant to a target site and deploying the implant at the target site, the method comprising: guiding a first housing having a piercing jaw ((12); Note: Applicant has not given any structure to the piercing jaw in the claims) ending a piercing tip (13) and a working channel through the body (figs. 4A and B) and to a target site in the body, the piercing tip forging the path towards the target in which the housing will travel (figs. 4A and B); urging a second housing from an end of the working channel of the first housing (fig. 4A); retracting the second housing into the working channel of the first housing (col. 7, lines 12-14); and deploying an implant at the target site (fig. 4B).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1, 2, 5-7, 9-13, 15-17, 19, 20, 23 and 29 are allowable over the prior art of record.

Claim 26 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 27 and 28 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 11/5/03 and directed to claim 14 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 25-28 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., structure which describes a biasing element in the current invention in paragraphs 27 and 29 on page 6 of the original specification) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Therefore, it is the examiner's position that Kan clearly discloses a piercing jaw in physical communication with a biasing element as recited in amended claim 14. The Examiner considers 31 and 32 to be biasing elements because they are operated to open and close the piercing jaw.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
